

City Press is a commercial printing company located in North Fresno. As a growing business, we continually strive to be a good employer and to find significant ways to give back to our community. As business owners, and as parents, we are guided by our core principles of quality, value and integrity. At City Press we promote diversity and value the opportunities we can provide others. Much of our philanthropic effort is directed toward local kids. We are proud to be long-time supporters of the Children's Hospital annual Kids' Day and Harvest Ball events, as well as Granville's Home of Hope and the Make-a-Wish Foundation of Central California. We also support many local high school athletic programs, in addition to sponsoring the athletic teams for our employees' children.

As the owners at City Press, my husband Paul and I are proud to be first-time sponsors of the Central California Women's Conference and to celebrate women in the workplace. We are also proud that Paul's mother, Jane Wood, is a speaker at this year's conference. She has been a mentor to him throughout his life and to me since I have known her. Paul grew up watching her achieve excellence as she grew in her career from a bank teller to a Senior Executive and we are both proud of all that she has accomplished. Whether it is in her role as a wife, a mother and grandmother, or as a leader in business she has also demonstrated the importance of contributing to the lives of others. We are pleased that you will have the opportunity to hear her story and we sincerely hope that you enjoy the 2009 Conference.

Best regards,
